

Friday, November 9, 2018
Scholarly Productivity for the Busy Clinician
Melrose Conference Rooms 1 & 2
12:30 – 4:00 please feel free to bring your lunch

12:30 PM Intro to developing a scholarly idea

– Lois Geist, MD, Associate Dean, Office of Faculty Affairs and Development

12:45 – 1:15 PM Introduction to Scholarship and Research – Hardin Library for the Health Sciences

– Mirko Von Elstermann, MLS

– Quick overview of resources to use when your idea is first conceived? Do you have a different spin on existing research? What are the resources available to you to identify and answer these questions? Registering for ORCID

1:15 – 1:45 PM Internal Review Board (IRB)

– Kelly O’Berry, BS, CIP

– When do you need to engage the Internal Review Board? What waivers exist and who to contact when in doubt.

1:45 – 2:00 PM Break and refreshments/Networking

2:00 – 2:45 Office of Consultation and Research (OCRME)

–Marcy Rosenbaum, PhD

– Evaluation of an educational program – is it the same as research?

2:45 – 3:15 PM Comprehensive Access & Delivery Research & Evaluation (CADRE)

– Heather Reisinger, PhD

– Overview of Comparative Effectiveness Research (CER) vs. outcomes based research

3:15 – 3:45 PM Institute for Clinical and Translational Science (ICTS)

– Elizabeth Chrischilles, PhD, Associate Director for Biomedical Informatics

– Overview of existing data available through ICTS and how to access that data – other possible data sources.

Q & A