

DEPARTMENTAL PEER REVIEW OF TEACHING GROUP

The College of Medicine internal review of the teaching will be carried out by a faculty committee.

The peer evaluation of the candidate's teaching will be contained in a report that analyzes the relevant materials in the Promotion Record, and will include a comparative analysis of the quality of the candidate's teaching in the context of the expected teaching contributions in the department and the profession.

The faculty members who perform the peer evaluation of the candidate's teaching will enter their report into the section of the Promotion Record that is dedicated to the history and evaluation of the candidate's teaching.
