Off Campus Access

Many of resources we need access to are available using a simple web browser, however, on those occasions where the resources is restricted to the campus network, and you may not be on campus, there is a solution available. Often referred to as “Remote Access” or “Virtual Desktop”, faculty, staff and students have the capability to access applications, browsers, e-mail, and shared drives when off-campus. Below is a table outlining the options available, along with some information on which might best suit your needs.
